

Tools for FACILITATING COLLABORATION

LARGE/COMPLEX PROPOSAL WEBINAR SERIES

As part of our “large/complex proposals” preparation series, the Office for Research Development has partnered with Hanover Research to offer a 1-hour webinar that will cover tools helpful for building and maintaining strong collaborations.

If you intend or aspire to serve as lead PI on a large/complex grant proposal that requires a collaborative research effort, we hope you will join us.

The workshop will be presented on:

MONDAY,
OCTOBER 16TH,
FROM 1PM - 2PM

There will be time for Q&A.

You must RSVP
by October 12th
to receive the link to the workshop.

Presenter: Kristina Weaver

Managing Grants Consultant, Hanover Research

An interdisciplinary social scientist, Kristina has supported proposals yielding more than $47 million in awards, and she manages Hanover’s team that specializes in National Science Foundation (NSF) proposals. Kristina previously served as associate director of the University of Virginia’s Institute for Engagement & Negotiation, where she led federally funded research and stakeholder engagement projects around sustainability, climate adaptation, Tribal consultation, urban planning, and more. Kristina holds degrees in cultural geography, English literature, history of science, and anthropology from Glasgow, Cambridge, and Yale Universities.